not account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The deadlock at Albany continues. The Pennsylvania Republican State Convention meets May 10th.

The indications are that the House Committee on Elections will report in favor of sending the Utah case back to the people of that Territory for another election.

The procurement of legislation to restrict Chinese immigration has been materially aided by the reference of the various bills on that subject, both in the Senate and House, to sub-committees as constituted to insure for the subject an early, intelligent and undoubtedly favorable consideration at the hands of the full committees.

A movement is on foot amongst the members of the San Francisco Produce Exchange to start a wheat speculation here on the Chicago system. If possible, the Exchange will be induced to take it up, otherwise those members favoring the project will combine with mining stock operators, who are tired of the dullness in their line of business, and commence operations. Shippers generally oppose the project, which is urged mainly by the commission merchants, but there is little doubt that it will be carried out within a few months.

Representative George has introduced a bill providing that all lands granted to aid the construction of railroads which shall not be taken up by the building of the roads before January 1, 1895, shall be declared forfeited and open for settlement. This in Oregon affects the Northern Pacific, the Oregon & California, and Oregon Central to Astoria. The bill also contains several important clauses protecting the rights of settlers in cases of forfeiture by railroad companies and insuring to these settlers good titles under the United States land laws.

Secretary Frelinghuysen has just received the following dispatch from our Charge d'Affaires at St. Petersburg, respecting the fate of the Jeannette and her crew. Danenhower and five of the crew in a whale boat arrived at Seakusk on December 17th. They are comfortably lodged and all their wants supplied. Melville and six men are expected soon. De Long and the crew of the first cutter had not been found on November 16th. On that date Baulange reported the Jeannette caught in the pack on October 1, 1879, and she drifted with the winds and currents till June last and was then abandoned. (Signed) HOFFMAN.

THE SALARY LAW.

No law on our statute books has been more severely criticized or more often condemned than the Salary law and its author has come in for a full share of abuse on account of it. Watching the persons who have been loudest in the abuse of this law from the outside, it has looked to us that the mud throwers were in most instances interested parties, either county officials or persons who hope to be in the future. The end of a year and the investigation of the Grand Jury exhibits the wisdom of the law for Washoe county at least, and we can see no reason why it should not work just as well all over the State. The Grand Jury say that this law has saved Washoe county $5,000 for the year 1881 in salaries alone. It does not say, for it could not, how much has been saved the people, but if the total amount of fees paid in under the old law could be ascertained, we have doubt it would be found that this five thousand dollars, is but a small part of the actual saving to the public in the transaction of its business with the county officials. The law is now an established fact, the Supreme Court having recently held it to be valid and its operation shown to be largely beneficial. The JOURNAL may crow, just a little, for it has always defended the law. One thing more. It will be well for the people of Nevada, to keep an eye on this law. At the meeting of the next legislature, there will be a strong and well organized effort to repeal it. This effort will not come from county officials alone or principally, but from the old political ring masters who find Nevada a hard road to travel since officials have nothing to divide. County officers are not the prize they were under the old fee system. Men cannot afford to spend several thousand dollars among the members of the ring. "Othello's occupation's gone," and the old nest of political vags that have attached themselves to both parties and largely ruled their nominations, see plainly enough that they must hunt other feeding grounds or get the Salary law repealed. Let taxpayers bear this in mind and require of every candidate for the Legislature at the next election, a distinct pledge that they will do all in their power to hold this excellent law intact on the statutes of Nevada.

SPLINTERS.

Two thousand men are engaged in the work of destroying locusts' eggs in Cyprus, of which nearly a thousand tons were disposed of in the past year. The wine yield of the island is increasing.

Over one thousand houses were erected in Salt Lake City in 1881, and it is expected that there will be another building boom there during the present year.

Mayor Grace of New York reports the debt of that city as over $99,000,000, but says the city possesses sufficient wealth to cancel the indebtedness twice over.

An Arizona man, named John Brown, for instance must feel uncomfortable when he reads his name printed in the list of hotel arrivals, "John Brown, Total Wreck." Total Wreck is the name of an Arizona town.

Justice has indeed overtaken the Philadelphia ballot-box stuffer, who goes to prison for six months, pays $100, cannot vote for seven years, and is for all time disqualified from holding public office.

General Burbridge has made a center shot in his reply to the unconstructed rebel impudence of Blackburn, in reminding him of the infamous attempt of Blackburn himself to introduce the yellow fever into the North.

Now that all the funny newspapers have had their jibe because ex-President Hayes refused to subscribe to the Garfield Monument Fund because of poverty, it is found that he did not refuse. He gave $250, and offered to give more.

Dr. Bliss only demands $50,000 as his fee for medical attendance on the late President Garfield. When Bliss dies, his cheek should be preserved in alcohol and put on exhibition in the monstrosity department of the Smithsonian Institute.

The President disarms the Anti-Monopolists by leaving the selection of the Auditor of Railroad Accounts to Edmunds and Thurman. He is as shrewd as they make them. He is not giving anybody a good chance of complaint against his course.

The London News says that international politics are the subject of unfavorable attention on the Stock Exchange. The rescript of the Emperor of Germany is regarded as so unconstitutional as to amount to revolution, while the designs of Prince Bismarck may also have caused uneasiness.

A gentleman who has been traveling extensively in Sonora, Mexico, informs the Los Angeles Times that the country is one of unsurpassed fertility. The people are intelligent and comparatively refined, and they always cordially welcome strangers. Hermosillo assumes the airs and importance of a gay and magnificent European capital.

Wells, Fargo & Co. have discontinued their express route between Tombstone and Bisbee. The loss on that road have been $9,000, being $2,500 in the September robbery and $6,500 in that of Friday last. It is not considered improbable that they may take their express off between Benson and Tombstone, the risks being greater than the profits.

Frelinghuysen will have a hard job of it when he undertakes to straighten out the tangle in which Blaine left our foreign relations. It looks as if the Maine man purposely played for popularity by making high-sounding pretension of American supremacy, leaving to some one else the impossible task of maintaining them, or the unwelcome task of seeming to back down.

Work is to begin immediately on the great stone bridge which is to span the Mississippi river at Minneapolis. The bridge is to have eighty arches, the longest span two hundred feet, the others one hundred and forty feet, the total length of the masonry will be 1,900 feet. The contractors expect to complete the structure in about one year. It is built for the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railroad, and will cost over $1,000,000.

The Free Press summarizes the mining situation as follows: It will perhaps be a surprise to many of our readers, nevertheless it is a fact, that the bullion shipments from Bodie during the year just closed were the largest of any year since the revival of the district. They amounted to the sum of $3,873,000. This is an increase of more than $100,000 over those of 1880, more than $600,000 over those of 1879, and more than $1,000,000 over the year 1878, which was the year of the greatest excitement in the Bodie mines.

The following statement is made by the Portland Oregonian: During 1881 one hundred and sixty-eight buildings and eight docks were put up in Portland, their total cost being $1,150,070, an increase of $268,335 over the total cost of buildings put up in 1880. In addition over $60,000 worth of stone foundation, preparatory to building during the coming season. During the same time $253,839 has been expended in laying block-stone and macadam streets. While the year has been one of marked activity, it will be far surpassed in the season soon to come.

Hear's Eulogy.

The finest portion and really the essence of the whole speech, was the closing words of his recent eulogy upon Garfield: "Honors paid to Garfield are the protest of a better age, and a better generation, against the vulgar heroism of the past. Go through their mansoleums, and under their triumphal arches, and see how the names inscribed there shrink and shrivel, compared with that of this Christian soldier, whose chiefest virtues, after all, are of the fireside and family circle, and of the dying bed. Here the hero of America becomes the hero of humanity. Let us not boast at the funeral of our dead. Such a temper would be doubly odious in the presence of such expressions of hearty sympathy from Governments of every form, but we should be unfaithful to ourselves, if in asking for this man a place in the world's gallery of illustrious names, we did not declare that we offer him as an example of the products of freedom. Is not that country worth dying for whose peasantry are of such a strain? Is not that Constitution worth standing by, under whose forms freedom calls such men to her high places? Is not the Union worth saving, which gives all of us the property of countrymen in such a fame?"

The New York Sun's Washington special says: A new chapter in the history of Blaine's diplomatic career has come to light. His attempt, undertaken without the sanction of the President or Congress, to create a great American league, has stirred up a good deal of feeling. His friends still insist that if the administration had been wise it would have retained him and his policy. It is now known that he wrote two letters—one directly to the South American governments and the other to our representatives. The first invited the governments to send delegates here to a convention, and the second instructed our representatives to urge the acceptance of the invitation and to promise that this government would bear all the expenses of the convention. One of the objects of the convention was to concoct a joint tariff discriminating against all American governments. The scheme was to form a sort of political and commercial league between the United States and South America. European legations in South America were put on the qui vive at once, and it was easy for them to throw obstacles in Blaine's path. Their commercial and financial influence in South America was entirely too potent, and the projected conference of American powers was nipped in the bud.

The Star-route cases came up Wednesday. Bliss conducted the prosecution. All the accused were present. Bliss stated the position taken by the government in these cases. He made a severe arraignment of the methods pursued by the defendants in transferring property from one party to another just before the awards of contracts, so that one piece of land worth a few thousand dollars would represent bonds to the amount of nearly $3,000,000, and said that under the present law the Postmaster-General was absolutely powerless to prevent such frauds. At the conclusion of Bliss's address the first case was called, that against Cabell, Mennox and Dixon.

John Walton, a wealthy farmer, residing about ten miles from Shelbyville, Ind., was shot dead while reading at a window. A negro named Aaron Frazier was suspected, and on being arrested confessed that he was persuaded to commit the murder by O. M. Garrett, who offered to pay him a large sum of money. Garrett was then taken into custody and soon afterward fatally injured himself with a revolver. The confession made by Garrett reveals a criminal intimacy between him and Walton's wife.

The Senatorial elections in France Sunday resulted in a complete triumph of the Republicans. Of the seventy-nine seats contested, only thirteen were carried by the Monarchists. The remaining sixty-six were carried by the Republicans, who, for the greater part are pledged to support Gambetta in his scheme for the so-called reform of the Constitution. Gambetta's popularity with the Parisian masses is fading.

The Teller silver bill will float a large amount of currency based on silver deposited with the government that will be non-interest paying. Our word for it, the bill will meet with all the opposition the entire national bank ring can bring to bear on it. We are getting to look on this national bank business as a thing that needs its wings clipped. We may need an Andrew Jackson again.

A steel sailing ship was launched from the yards of Belfast, Ireland a few days ago, named the Garfield. She is to engage in the California and Australian trade and is said to be the largest steel sailing vessel afloat. But why don't we build these ships at home?

Secretary Frelinghuysen teaches Sunday School when he is at home in New Jersey.

PRODIGIOUS LABORS.

How Thiers Worked to Save France.

Hon. Elihu B. Washburn gives The Century for January his reminiscences of Thiers, and describes his habits of work as follows: "The labors of Thiers at this time were simply prodigious. The condition of France was terrible. The Germans held military occupation of a large number of departments; its armies in part prisoners; its treasury empty and its credit impaired; the whole interior administration disorganized; violence and disorder in the large cities, political parties violent, and the Assembly secretly hostile and reactionary; the indemnity to be raised for Germany. Though seventy-five years old, Thiers entered on his duties with juvenile ardor, and exhibited an activity alike without limit and without example. There was little that escaped him in the administration of the Government. With but a few hours of sleep, five o'clock in the morning always found him at work in his Cabinet, in conjunction with his Secretary, his life-long friend and associate, Barthelemy St. Hilaire, one of the most distinguished men of France, member of the French Academy, and recently, Minister of Foreign Affairs under President Grévy. I recollect an account given in the papers of Thiers having once playfully reproached his old friend for not having arrived at his Cabinet until after five o'clock in the morning. Often would some Minister be surprised to receive a note asking him to call, in relation to some matter in his department, at six o'clock in the morning. While giving all his attention to matters of interior administration and to public affairs generally, Thiers was attending the sessions of the National Assembly and participating in the discussions of the most important questions. As M. Jules Simon well says, he was absorbed in labors enough to fill three existences. He managed to do everything, thanks to his strength of will and the extreme lucidity of his mind. He gave himself up entirely to the matter in hand and the person present. He never had that busy and preoccupied air which some persons have with one-twentieth of the work. He was in some respects, like Lincoln. He was cheerful in the midst of the greatest crises. He would catch a jesting phrase on the wing, and was not afraid of a doubtful joke. His natural cheerfulness was a great aid to him in his crushing work. While his ministers were weighed down with labors and responsibilities, he was always cheerful, and at his case. He has furnished an example for all rulers. He gave all he had of heart, mind and strength to his country. He did not fritter away his time on trifling and immaterial questions, nor permit it to be taken up in dispensing public patronage. He rarely gave himself any vacation. When the Chambers had taken a vacancy and the ministers were having their holidays, Thiers was once asked about a holiday for himself. 'Ah!' said he, 'my holiday is eighteen hours work a day.'

Senator Teller's Silver Bill.

Senator Teller introduced on Monday a bill to provide for the deposit of silver bullion, and issue of certificates therefor, authorizing the holders of silver bullion, 900 fine or over, to deposit for sale with the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the United States, in quantities of 1,000 ounces or over, for which they are to receive the market value in certificates of not less than $20 each. These certificates are made payable on demand in coin, and receivable for customs taxes and public dues. The bill also provides that holders of silver dollars may deposit the same with the Treasurer of the United States, and receive one and two dollar silver certificates, until the whole amount of one and two dollar certificates issued shall amount to $10,000,000. The small certificates are also made receivable for customs taxes and public dues. The bill further provides that bullion so deposited shall be coined at the Mints as rapidly as can be done, consistent with economy and without interfering with the coinage of gold. —S. F. Post.

A large iron buoy has been towed to the lower bay of New York, where it is to be used to support an electric light. It is fitted with an apparatus intended to convert the power of wave-motion into electricity.

It is claimed that twenty thousand miles of railroad will be built in this country this year.

PRICE OF DAILY JOURNAL,

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Tom Holt was reported last evening lying very low with typhoid pneumonia.

A good house and lot for sale within two blocks of Virginia street, price $500. Apply at this office.

J. P. Foulks, Mayor of Verdi is down from those rural glades. He offers to let the town for a refrigerator.

Dr. Wiggins, the Canadian astronomer, will probably be given the Warner prize of $200 in gold for the best essay on the nature of comets.

There has been a change in the proprietorship of the Pioche Record Publishing Company—D. H. Foulks having purchased R. S. Crowley's interest.

E. Meyer had two fine signs put up yesterday at his cigar store on Commercial Row. Meyer keeps a fine assortment of cigars and tobacco. Call on him.

The session of the State University, at Elko opened on Monday morning with an attendance of thirty three scholars—the average attendance during the previous season.

There are in the yard at Ellen's sawmill at Truckee, 300,000 feet of logs. The proprietor of the mill thinks that the present year will be the best for the lumbering business ever known at Truckee. He has already more orders than he can fill.

John Hogan went on as night watchman for Reno last night. Hogan is one of our old residents is a straightforward honest man, and will do faithful service. We hope he will get a liberal support from our citizens, for the town needs a night watchman constantly.

Saxton's mill, two miles south of Tahoe City has been sold to the owners of the mill.

Sold to N. Steen, who is shipping it to San Francisco to sell as old iron. The mill was built in 1863 at a cost $10,000.

L. P. Drexler is reported to have said, says the Post, that the managers of the Union Consolidated and Mexican mines can within a reasonable time show as fine a face of ore on the 3700 level as has been seen on the Comstock within the past five years, and he censures them for delaying the work of crosscutting.

Golden Days is the title of a large eighty page monthly for boys and girls. A glance through its handsome pages show it to be a nice collection of stories, poems, facts and anecdotes just suited for the boys and girls. Above all, it is pure in tone and parents will not feel a shock every time it comes. We cannot have too much of such reading, as we cannot have too little of the wretched stuff that is ground out of some New York publishing houses. Published by James Elvertson, Philadelphia.

Suits Entered

Frank Miller a holder of coupons of the bonded indebtedness of Lincoln county, was entered suit against the county for $18,000. Although suit was entered no action has been commenced.

Small-pox

It is said that there are four cases of small pox on the emigrant train quarantined above Verdi. A prominent physician from San Francisco pronounces the cases genuine small-pox. It would be well for Reno to be on her guard, and take all the necessary precautions. Being on the line of the rail road, and having strangers constantly amongst us, we are more or less exposed.

Worth White Seeing

It would have paid any one for the trouble if they had walked down and looked at the Depot Hotel Fountain yesterday morning. It has been a pleasing sight several times during the winter, but yesterday it was perfectly beautiful. The ice had formed at the base of the fountain in little mounds and as it reached upward presented many curious and fantastic shapes. The images were almost incised in the ice and as one stood looking at them, it seemed as if they were almost borne down by the weight yet presented the appearance of children at play. The constant drip of the water from the umbrella had frozen and formed a covering to the whole fountain on the West side, leaving (by a singular coincidence), an opening on the opposite side giving the idea that the images were just stepping from an ice cave. Murry Dunham photographed the fountain, and proposes to print several thousand copies (boudoir size) for free distribution. To pay the expenses of the same he will endeavor to get advertisements from the various business men of Reno to be printed on the back of the cards.

The Insane Asylum.

Last evening's Tribune says "The State Treasurer and Controller paid a visit to the Insane Asylum building yesterday. Both gentlemen concur in the fact that a better public building was never erected on the Pacific Coast for the same amount of money the contract calls for. The contractors have evidenced the fact that they were determined to execute the work in such a manner as that the building will be a lasting credit to them. That they will make anything by the contract is simply ridiculous to suppose, but notwithstanding that loss stared them in the face, they concluded that future success was better than present gain, and so determined to do such work as that for once the State of Nevada would be proud of having one public institution erected, in the construction of which no jobs were put up. A Tribune reporter will pay a visit of inspection to the building shortly and write of things as they are, just for the satisfaction of the public in general.

Perforated Coins.

The holes in silver coins, which have become of late so general a nuisance, are usually attributed to a nefarious industry which seeks to save clippings or punchings of the metal. Doubtless this slow and laborious mode of accumulating a fortune may be practised to some extent, but is it the chief cause of the perforations? Some light may be thrown upon this question by large orders lately received at the United States Mint, outrunning any possibility of supply, for new dimes, "to be used for bangles." Perhaps, if the truth were known, a remarkable large fraction of the perforated silver pieces would be found due not to a wish to cheat but to their use as ornaments, the holes being necessary for the wire or cord that fastens them, and when they become dull by age and wear they are discarded for prosaic use as money.

Worth Knowing

A box 8x8 inches square and 8 inches deep will contain a peck.
A box 12x11 1/2 inches square and 9 inches deep will contain a half-bushel.
A box 23x15 1/2 inches square and 8 inches deep will contain a bushel.
A box 28x16 inches square and 28 inches deep will contain a barrel.
A cord of stone 3 bushels of lime, and a cubic yard of sand, will lay 100 cubic feet of wall.
One thousand laths will cover 70 yds of surface, and 11 pounds of lath-nails will nail them on.
Eight bushels of good lime, 16 bushels of sand and 1 bushel of hair will plaster 100 square yards.
One thousand shingles, laid 4 inches to the weather, will cover 100 square feet surface, and 5 pounds of shingle-nails will fasten them on.

Fresh Havana Cigars.

E. Meyer has just received a choice lot of fine fresh Havana cigars, including all the most popular brands. The best domestic cigars to be found in the State are always kept on hand, also all the favorite brands of smoking and chewing tobacco and cigarettes. Playing cards and all manner of notions, fancy cutlery etc., at the lowest rates.

Jacobs the Tailor.

The apparel does not always proclaim the man, but it unquestionably proclaims the tailor. A man in badly fitting clothes may be a great man, but he is a short sighted man also. He would have gone to Jacobs and made himself solid with the public by getting some well cut clothes.

Court Notes

The case of A. J. Smith vs. R. A. Frazier was continued for the term.
In the case of the State against D. McMahon, defendant demurred, demurrer argued and submitted.
Case of State against A. K. King, demurrer argued and submitted.
Jane Lake vs. M. C. Lake, order retaining costs received.

Paid Off

The employees of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad Company, were paid off this week for last month's work. The total pay-roll of the company for December aggregates about $35,000.

Pechner is still in the field with his baths. Call around and get a nice hot bath, it is the cleanest bath house in the State.

Our Democratic friends have now got a fine opportunity to display their stand on the Chinese question. The Senate, Sub-Committee that has the subject in charge is composed of two Democrats and one Republican, the latter being Miller of California, a pronounced anti-Chinese. Let us see what we shall see.

At the explosion of the powder works at Pinole, Contra Costa county, Cal., nearly all the buildings were wrecked, and two Chinamen killed. There were 25 white men, and the same number of Chinamen, employed at the works. None of the former were seriously injured.

In selecting jewelry it is all important that the articles chosen be of the latest styles and neatest designs, and so we would advise all who contemplate making gifts in that line during the holidays to call at Wm. The magnificent display of solid gold jewelry set with precious stones, and of silverware, together with the attractive line of rolled-plate goods, at prices to suit the purses of all, is conclusive evidence of his excellent taste and determination to afford all Renoites an opportunity to purchase the finest articles at home, at reasonable prices. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disquietude, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brassy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliant and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is prized for its grateful and agreeable perfume and valued for the soft luster and richness of tone it imparts.
